EXCLUSIVE!

It's Take Me Out's Alanna!

The dating show star in her drawers!

TAKE ME Out's* one of the best things on the box, thanks to its conveyor belt of hot ladies. Talking of which, here's Alanna Thomas...

Hi Alanna! Do you have an actual day job?
Yes, I'm a model and singer.

Are you really single?
Yes, I am! And I have been for over a year now.

Describe your ideal man.
Six feet tall, well-toned body and good dress sense.

Is there any sly boozing before the show?
Ha-ha! That would be good, but no, not at all.

Do you really expect to find a boyfriend on the show?
Sure. I know my man is out there somewhere.

The longer the series goes on, do your standards drop?
Ha-ha! I guess so, yes!

ALANNA ON TV!

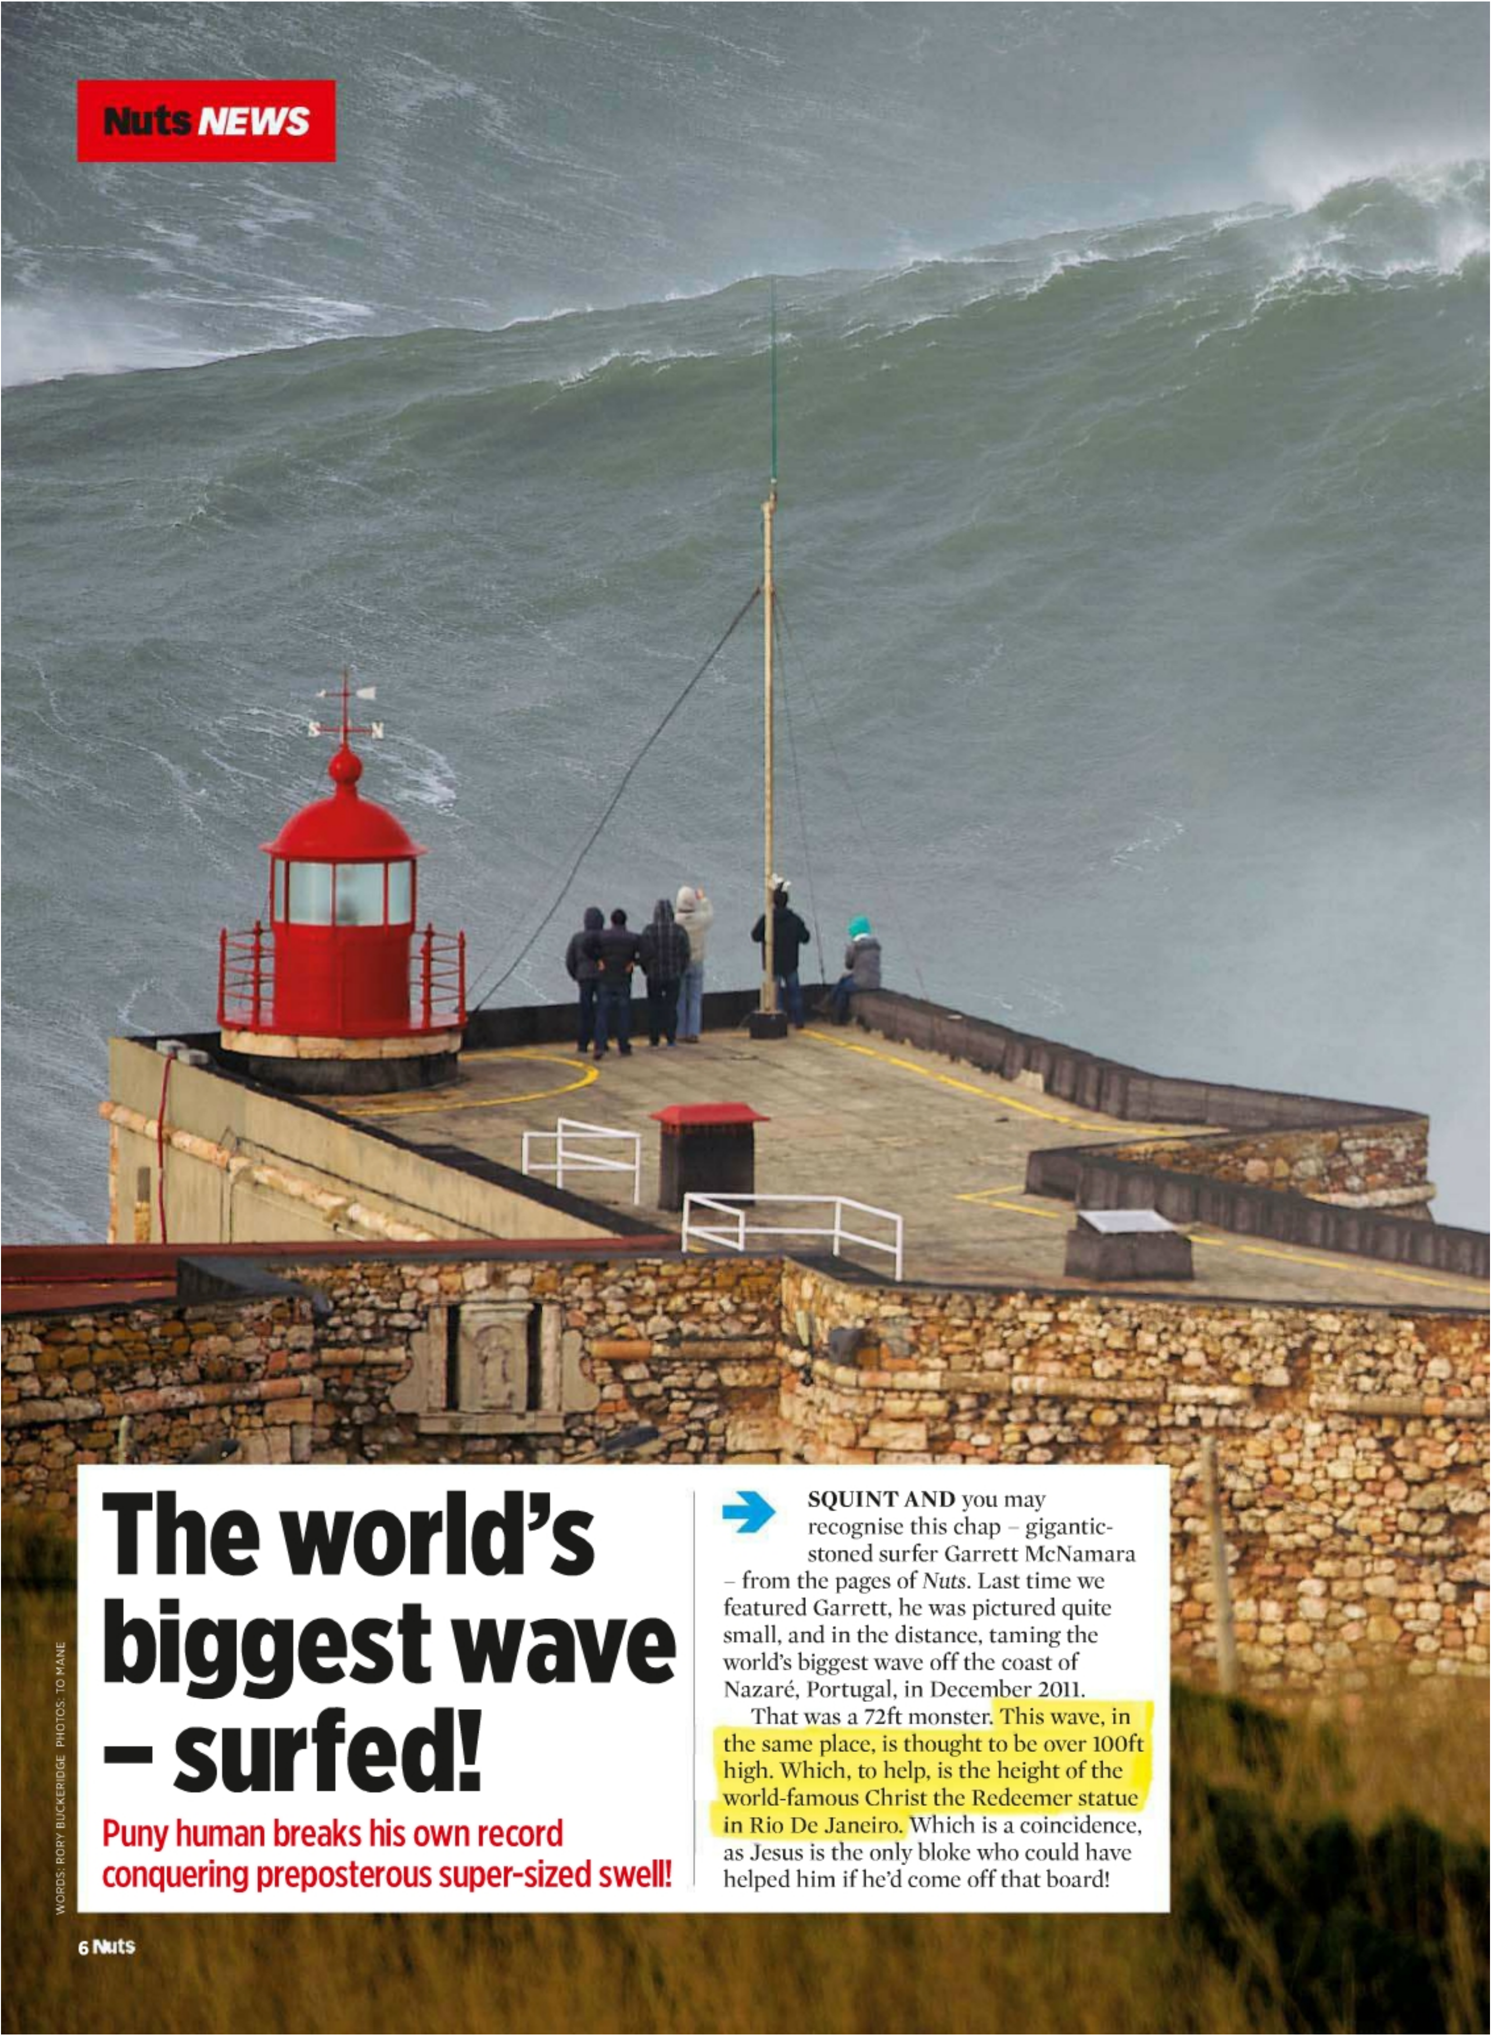
Catch Alanna – and lots of other hot girls – on Take Me Out on Saturday evenings on ITV/HD.

"Hurry up and shoot the picture, this is killing my legs!"

"Can I get some privacy in this changing room, please?"

"I want a tall guy with a really well-toned body!"

"Why did I put my TV on the ceiling?"



The world's biggest wave – surfed!

Puny human breaks his own record conquering preposterous super-sized swell!

SQUINT AND you may recognise this chap – gigantic-stoned surfer Garrett McNamara – from the pages of Nuts. Last time we featured Garrett, he was pictured quite small, and in the distance, taming the world's biggest wave off the coast of Nazaré, Portugal, in December 2011.

That was a 72ft monster. This wave, in the same place, is thought to be over 100ft high. Which, to help, is the height of the world-famous Christ the Redeemer statue in Rio De Janeiro. Which is a coincidence, as Jesus is the only bloke who could have helped him if he'd come off that board!

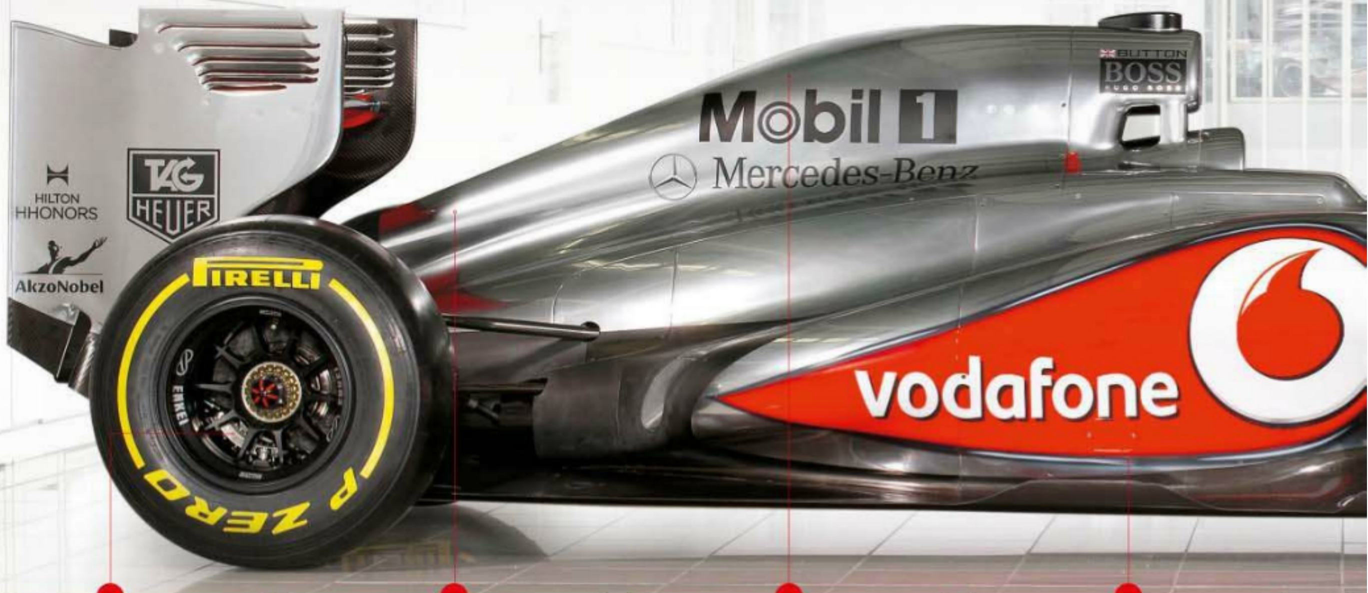
WORDS: RORY BUCKERIDGE PHOTOS: TO MANE

"Hello? No, I don't want to talk about my mobile phone contract right now!"

It's the new 2013 McLaren!

The Brit speed freaks unveil their brand new motor. And it's an absolute peach!

FERRARI MAY get the sloppy Italian love, but the world's most successful F1 team is McLaren, with 182 race wins. Plus they have dreamy Brit bloke Jenson Button as lead driver. McLaren also kindly asked Nuts to the launch of the 2013 car – this gloriously pretty MP4-28 – which they confidently reckon is faster than last year's slippery effort. Then we had a quick chat with that Mr Button!



KERS SYSTEM

The Kinetic Energy Recovery System is the engine-mounted electrical motor/generator. It generates up to 60kW of energy under braking that is piped back into the motor.

ENGINE

The Mercedes-Benz FO 180F is a 2.4-litre, 8-cylinder engine which will red line at 18,000rpm. It weighs a just silly 95kg, which is the minimum FIA regulation weight.

CHASSIS

The monocoque (the central frame everything is bolted to) is a carbon-fibre composite incorporating front- and side-impact structures and a survival cell.

BODY

This is a virgin carbon-fibre composite, including the engine cover, sidepods, floor, nose and front and rear wing. It has a "driver-operated drag reduction system". Also known as a "spoiler".

...and here's its driver!

Jenson Button tells Nuts all about his new motor!

Hi Jenson! So, what do you reckon to your new car then?

I've been so excited about the 2013 season, I feel like a kid again. It feels like when I was 20 years old, back in 2000. I always get excited about a new car, but this year I'm even more excited!

How will 2013's car be different from last year's motor?

I don't feel this car will be very different in terms of its direction, its feel and its limits. The tyres are very different. The idea is to have a tyre that works a lot easier in terms of temperature, with a wider range, and also a tyre that "I hate getting my tyres wet!"

McLAREN•COM

ELECTRONICS
McLaren's ultra high-tech bespoke system includes chassis control, engine control, data acquisition, alternator, sensors, data analysis and telemetry.

TYRES
These Pirelli P Zeros are designed to degrade more over use than last years. Good news for tyre-protecting maestros like Button. Plus, it should mean more pit stops next season.

FRONT AND REAR SUSPENSION
An inboard torsion bar/damper system operated by a pullrod and bell crank with double wishbone. Gobbledegook, right? It's lighter, more aerodynamic and works harder as force is applied.

degrades more. So hopefully we'll see more pit stops, which should work better for my style of driving, and also work better for the way the MP4-28 works.

How involved have you been in the development of this car?
I had some issues last season, and the great thing about McLaren is that they really listen to what the drivers have to say. You can help the direction of the development. I don't develop the car. I'm not a designer and I'm not an aerodynamicist, but we're the guys who sit in the car, and we give the experts the feedback to let them know if the car's actually doing what they think it is or not.

Who will be your main competitors this year?
I think the contenders will be the same as over the last few years. You've got Red Bull and Ferrari. I think Mercedes have a good chance, but obviously they're coming from a long way back, in terms of where their car was last year. With a few tweaks, Lotus could be there fighting for wins again. And then you've got the smaller teams that can also win races and be competitive and fight from the front. As always, it's going to be consistency through the year, and development of the car through the year that's going to win you the title.

Do you plan to see lots of Lewis Hamilton in your mirrors?
Well, hopefully not, no!

Are the team going to miss Lewis's aggression in qualifying and battling with Red Bull?
I'm going to do the best I can in qualifying and the best I can in the races. Yes, I think in qualifying, I had times last year that weren't good at all. Obviously I drive differently to everyone else on the grid and I feel that we've learnt a lot from last season, and the problems I had personally, and I feel that we've made steps forward. And we've also got a tyre in 2013 that does help me. And we start the season with a clean slate. I'm very excited that we'll be fighting for pole position on every race and hopefully fighting for a win in every race.

If you finish in the top ten of the first 2013 grand prix, you'll pass 1,000 career grands prix points. How does that make you feel?
Old! Old at 33!

All-new Jimmy Carr jokes!

Fresh funnies from the plate-faced comic!

On reading!

"I recently read Great Expectations. It wasn't as good as I thought it was going to be."

On racism!

"I like to think of myself as an equal opportunities entertainer. Basically, I offend everyone so no one feels picked on. Here's a joke Channel 4 told me I can't say. It was the week of the tsunami. I said, 'The tsunami was terrible. Tokyo was covered in raw fish and seaweed in an event described as 'delicious'. It could have been worse. I could have said, 'derricious'. But that would be razy lacism."

On plastic surgery!

"All the celebrities get plastic surgery these days. Coleen Rooney's just had some work done on her arsehole – he's had a hair transplant."

On dogs!

"Humans and dogs are the only animals that have sex for pleasure, but a dog will do it for a biscuit."

On kids!

"I don't have kids but if I did have kids, I think I'd have them adopted."

"How can you possibly explain the concept of death to a young child? Well, you need a hamster and a hammer."

On going shopping!

"Twenty per cent of women have cried in a shop changing room. I guess they weren't expecting to see me there."

On priests!

"We mustn't let these scandals affect the reputation of the Catholic priests that aren't paedophiles. They're both livid."

On Aids!

"They say a problem shared is a problem halved. Didn't really work with Aids, did it?"

"You know you can get Aids from a toilet seat? But only if you sit down before the last guy's got up."

On Michael Jackson!

"I can do a great Michael Jackson impression. All I need is a young volunteer."

On sex!

"A fluffy is when you're making love to a beautiful lady and she farts on your balls. How do you ask for that? Just take her for an Indian and hope for the best!"

"The reason you notice men instigating sex more than women instigating sex is that when women instigate sex, it happens!"

"Ladies, have you ever gone down on a guy and he's gone [does a sexual moan]? That's not your sexual technique. That's not his sexual ecstasy. That's the sound of a man not being asked a question."

"When I was little I didn't want to imagine my parents having sex. So I watched them from the wardrobe."

"I can drive a woman wild with my tongue. It's pretty easy. All you do is say, 'Have you put on weight?'"

"It all feels so much better when you have a w*nk with a dead arm, but apparently I ruined that funeral."

On babies!

"In 2009, Nadya Suleman gave birth to octuplets – two daughters and six sons – earning her the nickname, Octomum. Although she's also known as Gigantasnatch. The last baby walked out."

"One of my best friends from school, his wife is having a baby. I said, 'What do you want, a boy or a girl?' He said, 'I wanted a blow job.'"

"I think the real reason men cry at the birth of their child is that they see what the little sh*t has done to their missus."

On Ikea beds!

"One in ten kids conceived in the UK last year was conceived in an Ikea bed. That's a true fact. How it works is their parents insert flap A into slot B and screw until the nuts tighten."

On chuggers!

"You know those charity muggers you get in the high street? Chuggers as some people like to call them. I call them chunts. They work in packs and one got me and said, 'Do you now how often people die from Aids?' I said, 'I'm not an expert, but I'm guessing it's just the once.'"

On human statues!

"You know those human statues that you get in touristy places and they're painted silver, stand still and if you give them a pound they move their hands just a tiny little bit? It works out cheaper if you walk past them every day just to buy a taser."

On morris dancers!

"The reason morris dancers wear bells is so that blind people know that they're cts too!"

Genuine, actual moon base!

And it'll be printed, a bit like a magazine!

SINCE 1969, man has done little more than stomp around on the Moon and fill Tupperware boxes of dusty rock, to stick on eBay upon returning to Earth. But this ambitious collaboration between the European Space Agency and plucky Brit architects Foster + Partners could see a permanent base on the moon within our lifetime.

Best of all, it'll be 3D printed on site, using all the moon rock they can collect! So all we need are some beefy astronauts with some wheelbarrows, spades and a builder's bum. Brilliant!

WORDS: RORY BUCKERIDGE

Abramovich's new summer house was impressive

Building a moon base!

- The plan is for domes designed with cellular structured walls to shield against micrometeoroids and space radiation, with a hollow "closed cell" structure.
- The 3D building printers intended for use will generate 3.5m of wall per hour, which will be enough to complete an entire building in one week.
- Testing is being carried out in Italy because basaltic rock from a certain volcano in central Italy bears a 99.8 per cent resemblance to lunar soil.
- 3D printing works best at room temperature but as temperatures on the Moon vary greatly, it'll be built over the lunar poles – the most moderate temperature range.

"A couple of inches of snow and the trains stop running. Useless!"

Game Of Thrones: the new batch!

We're off to Westeros to become acquainted with some slighty unwashed new medieval friends!

PICK UP your sword, b*stard! We've got Game Of Thrones fever again, after being teased with these shots from the third series, promising new characters and more sex and violence. So let's meet some of the new gang as well as an old fave!

- Game Of Thrones returns to Sky Atlantic on 1 April.

"I told the missus this coat would be too big"

MANCE RAYDER CIARAN HINDS

The Munich star plays the "King Beyond The Wall" – the leader of the vicious Wildlings who inhabit the snow-covered "free" zone and generally do lots of bad stuff. He once fought the Wildlings, but now he leads them and he has good guy Jon "B*stard!" Snow as his prisoner! All together now – *b*stard*!

"For the last time, I'm not in the Fleet Foxes!"

THOROS OF MYR PAUL KAYE

Yes, brilliantly, fighting priest Thoros is played by the same man who played Mike Strutter. Along with Beric, he's the head of the Brotherhood Without Banners, and his most notable feature is that he goes into battle with his sword on fire, to intimidate the enemy. Yeah, we're pretty excited about this one too.

The new series of Strictly was a bit odd

MARGAERY TYRELL NATALIE DORMER

The comely Margaery Tyrell provides some new love interest for the horrible teenage king Joffrey, who wants to kick his old queen to the kerb. Natalie Dormer first appeared in nudey historical BBC drama The Tudors, a series in which she gained plenty of valuable experience in getting her clothes off.

"Sorry, mate – no sign of your golf ball up here"

THE REED SIBLINGS THOMAS BRODIE-SANGSTER & ELLIE KENDRICK

Jojen and Meera Reed may only be teenagers but they're useful allies to the Starks – basically the good guys in the show. Jojen has the gift of "greensight" – he can predict the future in his dreams. Any chance of a hand with the Pools?

"No, I did not enjoy Avatar 3D"

BERIC DONDARRION
RICHARD DORMER

Head of a wandering guerrilla army called the Brotherhood Without Banners. Whether this happens in the TV version is unsure, but in the books, Beric keeps dying and Thoros (below left) keeps resurrecting him. Handy.

"Those disposable razors are lethal!"

AND FINALLY... TYRION'S ALIVE!

Of course, the best character on the show is the scheming, cool-as-milk, lady-loving dwarf Tyrion Lannister (Peter Dinklage). At the end of the last series he was in a bad way, having had his face sliced open in the climactic battle. But as these pictures prove, the wee fella's OK, save for a scar across the noggin. Oh. Spoiler alert!

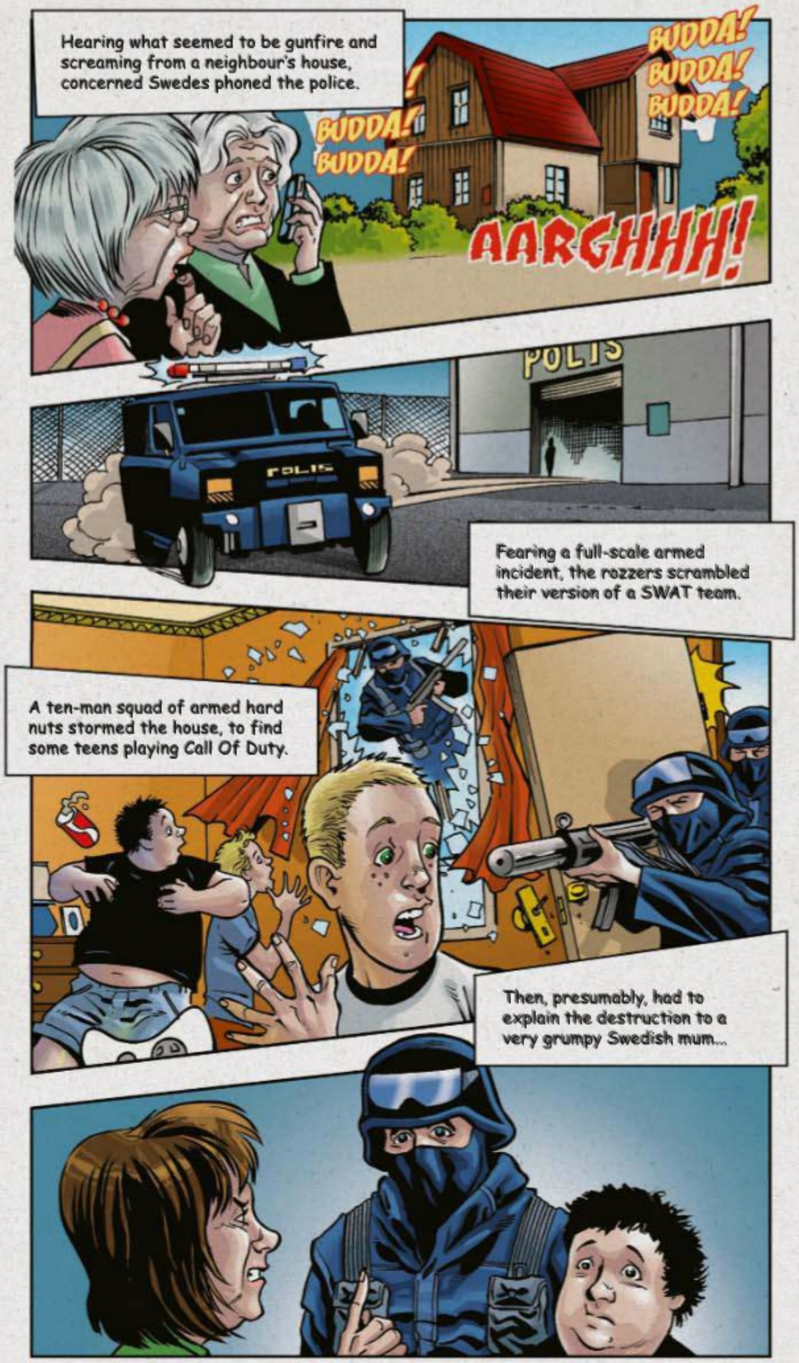
It's the news, in cartoons!

This week: Swedish SWAT team get it very wrong!

THIS WEEK'S story in cartoon form is the wonderful incident which happened in Stockholm, Sweden last week where a squad of ten, fully-armed, Kevlar-wrapped SWAT special ops cops responded to a call from terrified neighbours, convinced there was some kind of terrorist incident playing out next door, after hearing screaming and gunfire. Turns out it wasn't the international incident they thought it might be. Read on to find out why...



Hearing what seemed to be gunfire and screaming from a neighbour's house, concerned Swedes phoned the police.

Meet the Arab world's first native supercar. It has diamond-encrusted headlights!

- Perhaps strangely, no supercars have originated from the Middle East – until now. The Lykan Hypersport 2013 comes from a country that either doesn't know the meaning of subtlety or simply swerves around it.
- Revealed at the Qatar Motor Show, the aim of this creation is to steal the hearts (and wallets) of existing exotica owners – those who've already got a fleet of Koenigseggs and every daft colour rendition of Bugatti Veyron.
- And it's dripping with bonkers luxury details. For example, does a Koenigsegg have LED headlights encrusted with diamonds? No. Does Bugatti's Veyron

- That makes it the world's most expensive new car on sale. It comes with a "free" £120k watch, mind. And 24-hour concierge service.
- It has a top speed of 242mph – slower than a Veyron, but still "breakneck". Their words, not ours. And their words also say: "That's over 60mph faster than the take-off speed of the world's largest commercial jet – the Airbus 380." Good to know.
- It does 0-62mph in 2.8 seconds, which makes it faster on the sprint than a Lamborghini Aventador, thanks to the twin-turbo flat-six engine behind the seats.
- Beyond the crazy slash-cut body panels and suicide doors, it hosts a 3D Virtual Holographic Display with tactile interaction, and a revolutionary LD4Motion interactive dashboard.
- The engine consultants are German Porsche pokers RUF, so the 750bhp flat-six is almost certainly plucked from their mental CTR 3 model.
- Expect to see a few of the seven Lykan Hypersports being made ripping around London later this year. The clue for its launch date is in the name.

SEX ADVICE FROM A FIT LESBIAN!

Because she knows what she's doing and we don't!

KEEP UP WITH DANNI ON THE NET!

For all Danni's latest news and pictures, follow her on Twitter – @Danni_Orsi

Can't get a girl!

I'm 20 and find it hard to get a girl. I work nights so I can't go out often. Flirty girls talk to me at work, but nothing more than that. What should I do?

SCOTT Middlesbrough

Let's look at the positives. You're 20 and have a full-time job. Women love to feel secure and protected. The fact that girls flirt with you is a clear sign you're desirable. You just need to learn to switch off at the end of a shift. Don't stress – you're the perfect package!

She's a cheat!

The girl I've been seeing for a few weeks slept with someone else. She says it was a mistake and that it will never happen again, so I decided to give her another chance and stay with her. But now I can't get the image of her having sex with another fella out of my mind. What should I do?

ANON via email

Taking someone back is admirable, forgiving someone is divine. Not many have it in them. It's a simple situation. Either you commit to staying with her or not. Without going all Gandhi on you, just listen to your heart. In other words: she may be fit, but how fit?

LETTER OF THE WEEK!

Her knickers are my turn-on!

A few months ago my girlfriend went away for three weeks. One night, feeling lonely, I took one of her sexiest thongs out of the cupboard and gave it a good sniff. I was really turned on and now I do this whenever she's out. Can I introduce it in the bedroom without seeming like a perv?

TONY Newcastle

Don't tell her. During foreplay, keep her knickers on and lick through them. Then force the material to the side and enter her orally and with fingers. It will feel arousing to her, while you'll get to indulge in what you love.

She won't stop!

My girlfriend is 19 and I'm 26. It's not a big gap but I can't keep up sexually. She wants it all the time, even when I'm trying to sleep. If she's horny, she'll climb on and help herself! I want to keep her happy, but how can I without draining myself?

KEV Edinburgh

Sex toys! Try vibrating bullets or, since it seems your lady likes it saucy, anal beads. Experiment with them. Tell her she's only allowed to caress herself. It is not that she needs sex constantly, she just needs sexually fulfilling. Denying sex is also a turn-on and in return you will become more aroused.

JOKE OF THE WEEK!

Cutting it fine!

A MAN walks into a barbershop and asks, "How long before I can get a haircut?" The barber says, "About two hours," so the bloke leaves.

A few days later the same man sticks his head in the door and asks, "How long before I can get a haircut?" "About three hours," is the reply.

The next week the man comes back and asks the same question. He's told it'll be two hours and so he leaves, but this time, the barber asks an assistant to follow him. When he returns, the barber asks, "Where did he go?" The friend replies, "Your house!"

ROSIE JONES

“A massage and a good snog always light my fire!”

Hello Rosie! Nice to see you again. How are you?
I'm great, thank you. I just got back from Las Vegas. It was fantastic! Myself, India Reynolds and Holly Peers had a real girls' holiday – shopping all day and partying all night.

Blimey, you girls are always in Vegas. What mischief did you get up to this time?
We went to see Celine Dion, who was fantastic. We also went to see a really tasteful striptease, and were treated to a huge breakfast at a place that was featured on Man V Food! It was a meat-fest.

Hmm, that all sounds very well behaved for you lot!
Well, I got caught sleeping in my hotel lobby, and was rather rudely awoken by security. I wasn't as mischievous as India, though – she got us thrown out of a club!

Would you ever move to the US? Not that we're encouraging you to leave Blighty, of course.
I don't think I could handle that lifestyle all the time. Plus, I'd get really homesick. But the blokes over there absolutely love the sexy British accent. They think I'm Australian at first, but I soon put them right!

What's your favourite accent on a bloke?
In all honesty, British. To be specific, I love a London accent most. I'm not a girl who lusts after Frenchies or Italians. For me, it's all about London!

Did you watch your fellow Nuts babe Lacey in Big Brother?
Yes, although I missed the eviction when I was travelling. It was nice to see her in there. I knew she'd do something crazy, but I can't believe she got naked so quickly.

We were chuffed about that, too! Would you ever go into the Big Brother house?
I don't think so. I'd think ► about it, but I hear it can get really boring in there. Plus I'd miss my phone and my dog, and all my other creature comforts. Anyway, I've never been asked. Maybe I'm not interesting enough!

Nonsense! What do you make of new Page 3 Idol, Mellisa Clarke?
I met her recently for the first time. She's lovely! She has gorgeous eyes. I'm a fan.

What was the last really great album you listened to?
I just bought a load of old R'n'B albums for 50p each. I love R'n'B and I love a bargain. But I've been more into movies lately. I've been re-watching some old classics. Con Air and Mean Girls are my favourites. All girls love Mean Girls!

It's a classic, Rosie! Are you excited by any 2013 movies?
I know it's been out for a couple of weeks already, but I'm really looking forward to going to see Django Unchained. I like a good Tarantino romp.

Can you give blokes seduction tips for Valentine's Day?
Make it all about the girl. You don't have to spend a lot of money, just make it special. Spoil her. Take her out for a meal, get some flowers, maybe a hand-made card instead of those impersonal supermarket ones. That always means more.

Loads of comics tell us you can laugh a girl into bed. Is this true?
To an extent, yes. When used correctly, humour can be very effective. Unless you look like Ricky Gervais. He's funny, he's just not very attractive.

Poor Ricky! So what gets you going in the bedroom?
A sensual massage and a good snog always light my fire!

Lovely. Finally, what are you looking forward to about the rest of the year?
I'm going to Barbados next week where I hope there will be loads of sand, sea and sun!

INTERVIEW: CHRIS SAUNDERS

PROFESSOR

The floppy-fringed keyboard player turned physics boffin on his latest mind-melting series!

Hi Brian! What on Earth – or not – is your new series, The Wonders Of Life, about?
Hello! It's all about how science can explain the emergence of human beings. There are few credible theories about how it did happen and I wanted to look into it all. I flew to the US, Mexico, Asia and Africa to try to get some of the answers to the questions. I'm really pleased with it! It's been a hugely fascinating series to make.

What's the most mind-blowing thing you've learned from making the series?
Learning about modern biology! Two friends of mine, who are both professors, sat down and taught me a mini-degree in biology, which was great. There was a lot of stuff I didn't know about and it really taxed my brain.

You're a pretty huge star now – no pun intended – does that mean you can't pop to Morrisons without being mobbed?
Ha-ha! I do get stopped a lot by people who then proceed to talk nonsense at me. I now tend to point out that they're talking nonsense, but they then just look offended. All I'm doing is trying to do them a favour by pointing it out!

You were famously in rave band D:Ream, but do you get more groupies from pop music or physics?
Definitely physics! Anyone who remembers I was once in a band is too old to be a fan. Ha-ha!

What's the most "rock and roll" thing you've ever done?
We used to be rock and roll in a rather conservative way. The most we did was throw a teapot out the window. It's not exactly driving a Rolls Royce into a pool but at the time, I thought it was funny!

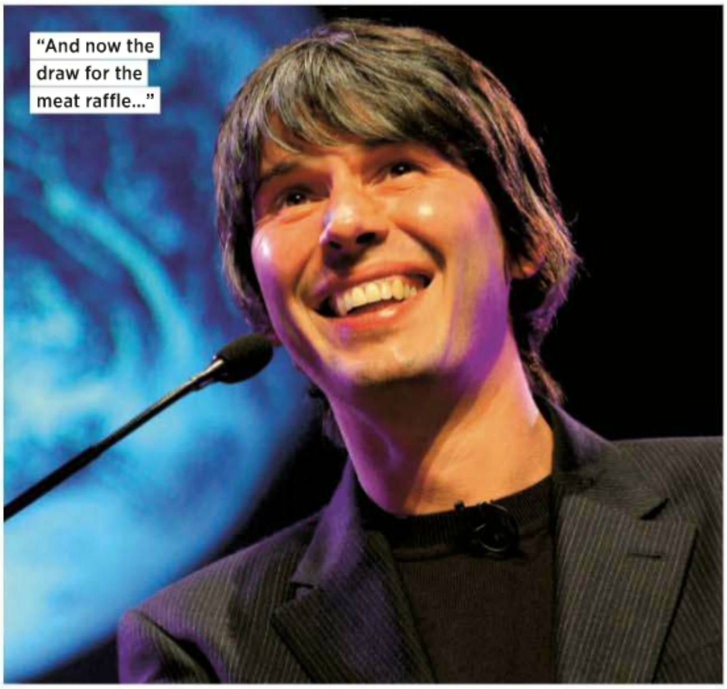
You say the word "amazing" a lot in your shows. What's the most "amazing" thing in the universe right now?
Without a shadow of doubt, human civilisation. The earth is the only place we know of where human civilisation exists. But is there life in the rest of the universe? It is complex and the chances are very rare, but we have no idea.

Which is the most under-rated planet?
Pluto. It got demoted from its position as a planet and its status has now been removed. And so it's so under-rated, it isn't even a planet any more! But there is a spacecraft on its way to Pluto and it'll arrive there in 2015. We'll then be able to find out more about it.

Physics strikes us as the least popular branch of the sciences. Do you think it gets an unfair rep?
To a certain extent, yes. But we're short of all scientists and engineers. They're all interesting areas – that's the thing. There's been a large rise in the number of applications to study physics at university – an eighteen per cent rise last year alone. It's not surprising to me. TV documentaries will change the career choices of kids.

Were you rubbish at any subjects in school?
French. I was terrible at it. I couldn't grasp it.

Do you reckon you'd ever turn your hand to any other non-science telly projects?
I just enjoy doing the physics shows. But I actually think of myself as an academic who does a bit of TV every now and again. In fact, I'm actually going to take a break from TV for a year to concentrate on teaching.



"And now the draw for the meat raffle..."

How would you feel about doing a reality show?
Science is too important not to be part of popular culture. It's the most important thing we do as a civilisation. It needs to be accepted and enjoyed as a form of entertainment. I go on chat shows and things like that because I enjoy them, but I'm not sure I would go that far and go on Strictly Come Dancing. If I do stop being on the telly, I won't go in the jungle to make myself popular again. I'll be pleased to become less popular!

You strike us as a man of multiple talents – do you have any hidden ones we should know about?
Oh no. I've got a limited set of talents, which I've managed to turn into a profession. I can chat a bit on camera, do physics and play on the keyboard. I've used them all up and there's nothing else. I definitely can't sing!

What would you do if you were told the world was going to blow up in an hour?
I would ask that person why they thought that and if indeed the world was going to end in an hour, why we had only just found out now. I would want to know what mistake we had made that allowed us not to notice the world was about to end. It would mean we hadn't spent enough on science.

Er, fair enough! Well, thanks for the chat, Brian. Finally what's the coolest science fact you know?
The size of the universe. There are 350 billion large galaxies in the universe, each of which has 100 billion stars in it. ✖

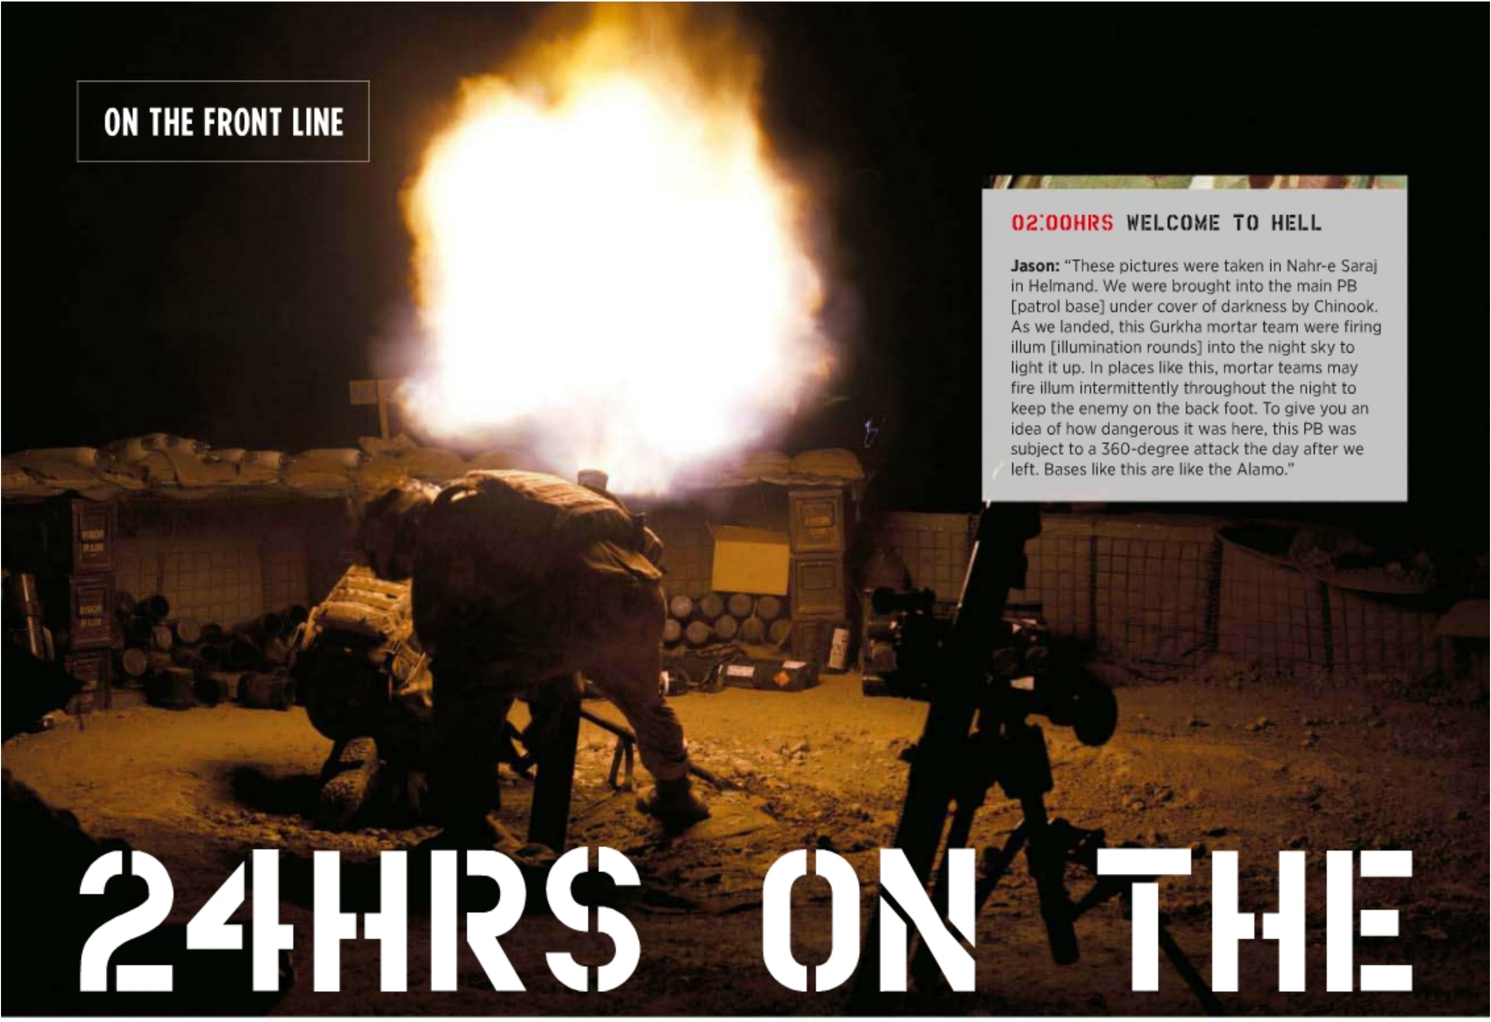
INTERVIEW: CHRISTINE SMITH PHOTO: REX FEATURES

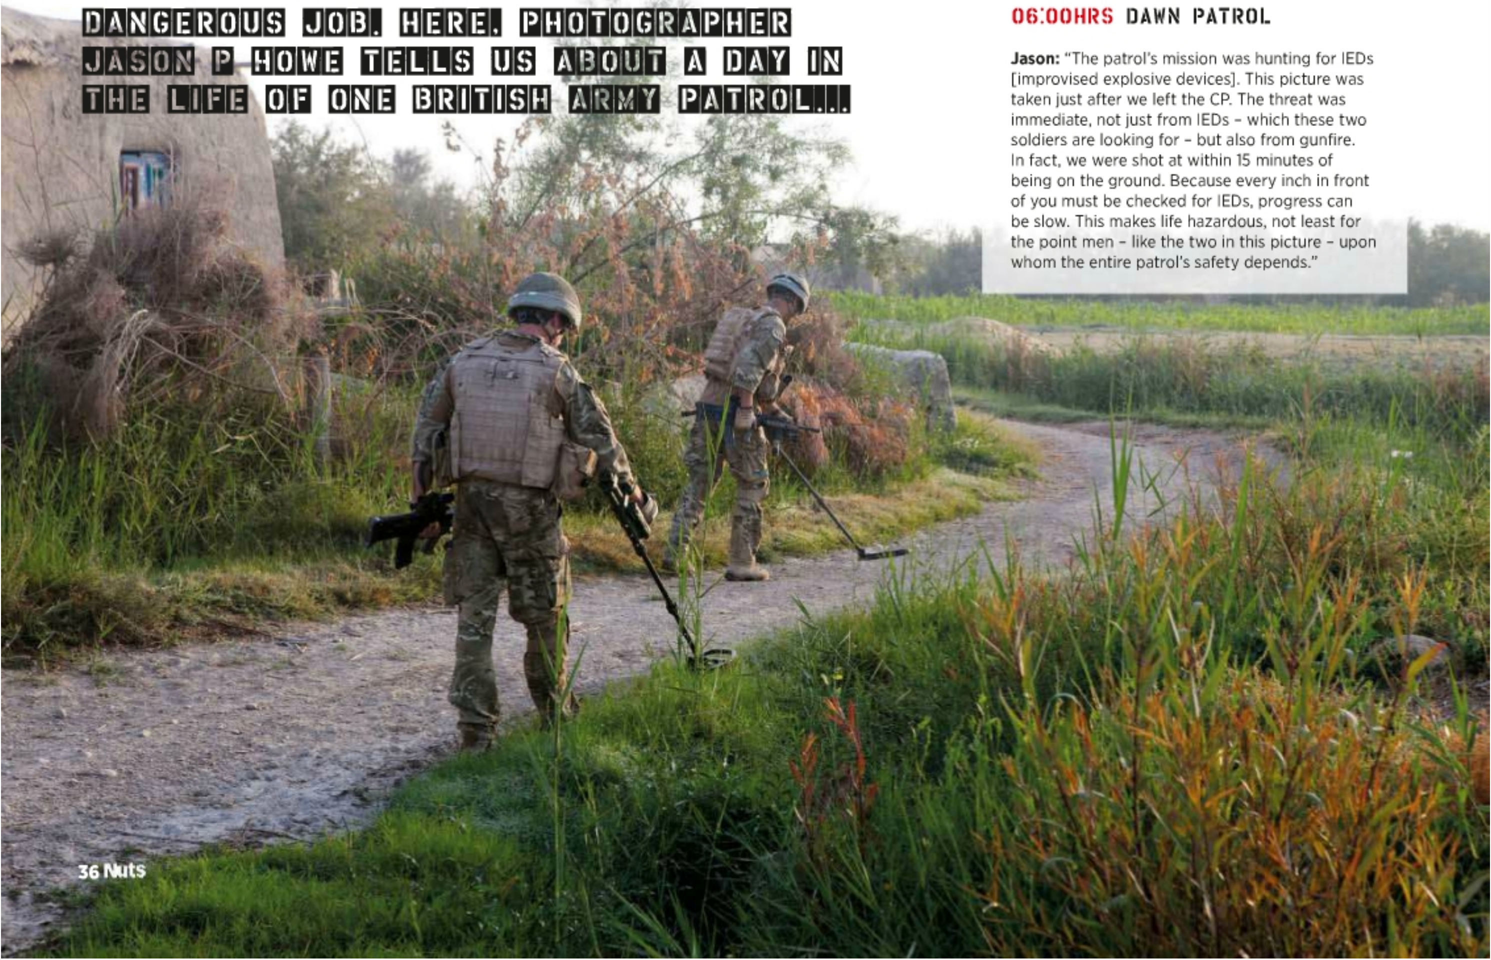


24HRS ON THE

POLICING HELMAND IS THE WORLD'S MOST DANGEROUS JOB. HERE, PHOTOGRAPHER JASON P HOWE TELLS US ABOUT A DAY IN THE LIFE OF ONE BRITISH ARMY PATROL...

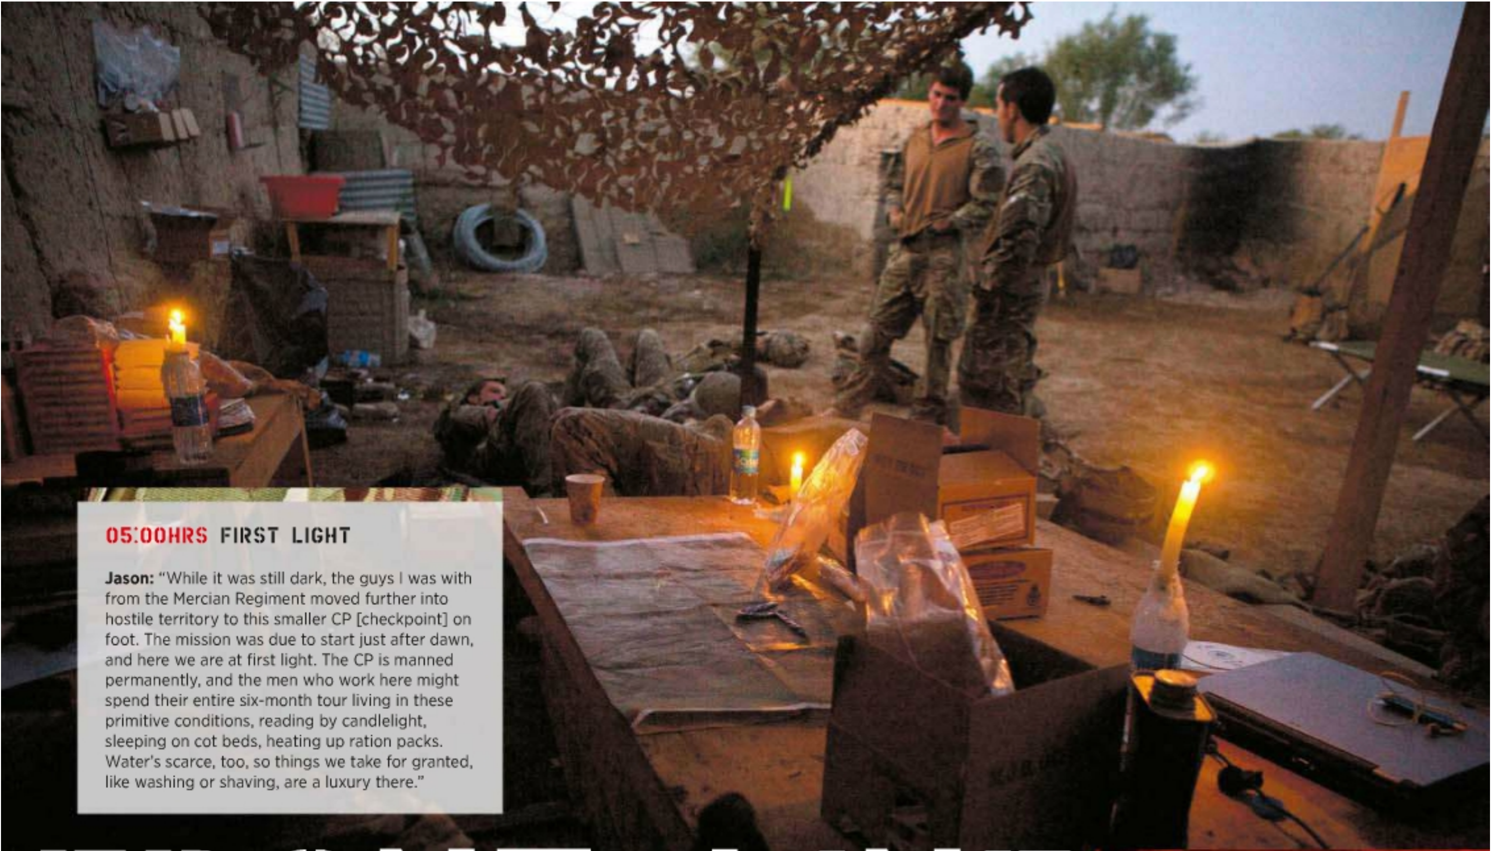
02:00HRS WELCOME TO HELL

Jason: "These pictures were taken in Nahr-e Saraj in Helmand. We were brought into the main PB [patrol base] under cover of darkness by Chinook. As we landed, this Gurkha mortar team were firing illum [illumination rounds] into the night sky to light it up. In places like this, mortar teams may fire illum intermittently throughout the night to keep the enemy on the back foot. To give you an idea of how dangerous it was here, this PB was subject to a 360-degree attack the day after we left. Bases like this are like the Alamo."



06:00HRS DAWN PATROL

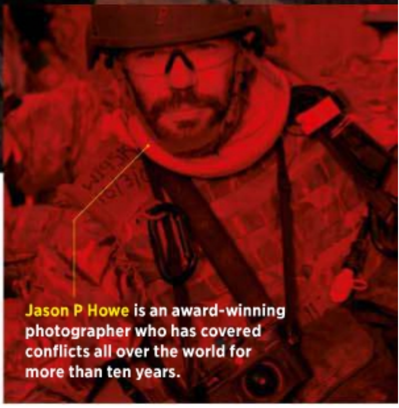
Jason: "The patrol's mission was hunting for IEDs [improvised explosive devices]. This picture was taken just after we left the CP. The threat was immediate, not just from IEDs – which these two soldiers are looking for – but also from gunfire. In fact, we were shot at within 15 minutes of being on the ground. Because every inch in front of you must be checked for IEDs, progress can be slow. This makes life hazardous, not least for the point men – like the two in this picture – upon whom the entire patrol's safety depends."



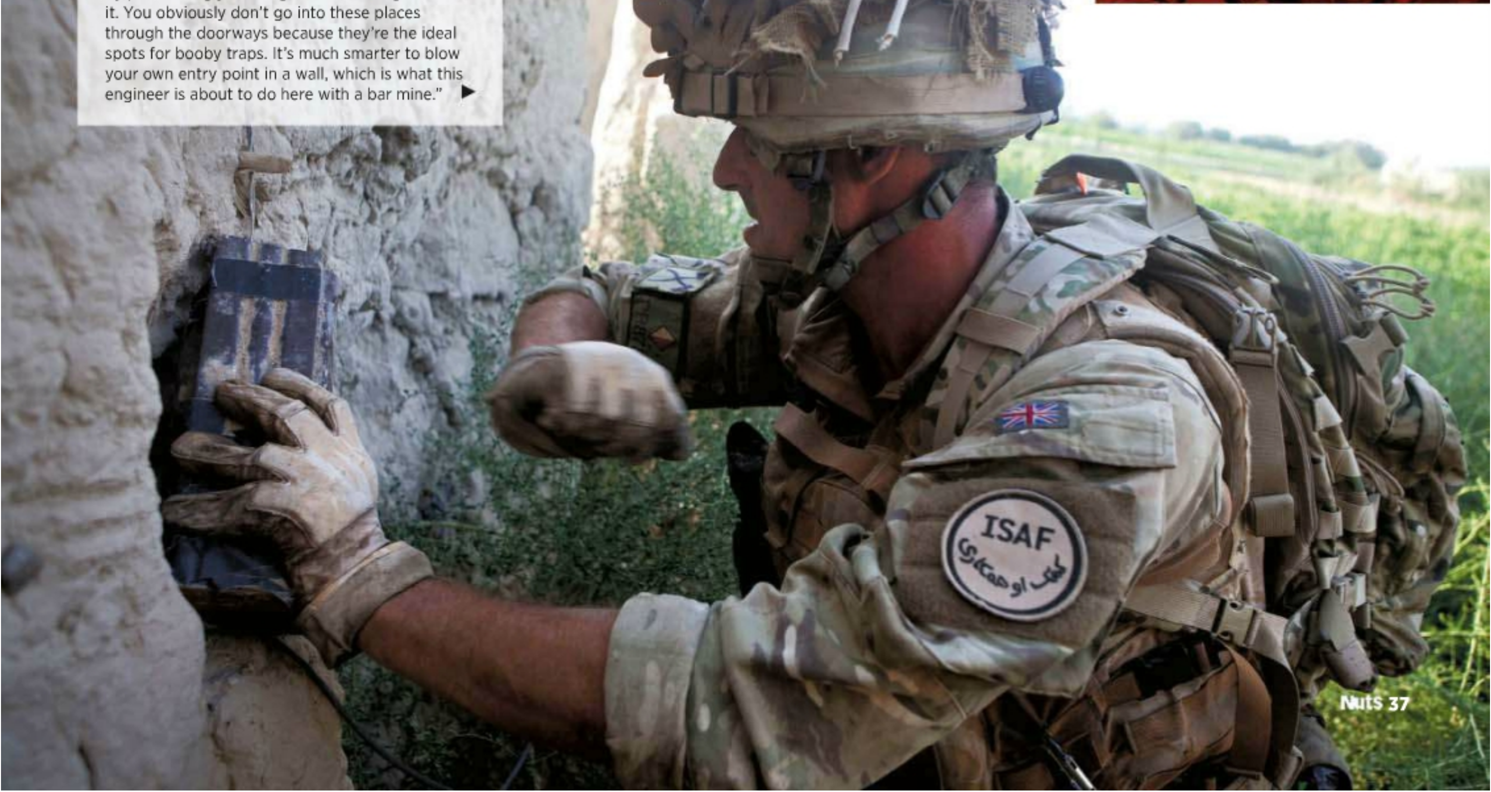
05:00HRS FIRST LIGHT

Jason: "While it was still dark, the guys I was with from the Mercian Regiment moved further into hostile territory to this smaller CP [checkpoint] on foot. The mission was due to start just after dawn, and here we are at first light. The CP is manned permanently, and the men who work here might spend their entire six-month tour living in these primitive conditions, reading by candlelight, sleeping on cot beds, heating up ration packs. Water's scarce, too, so things we take for granted, like washing or shaving, are a luxury there."

FRONT LINE

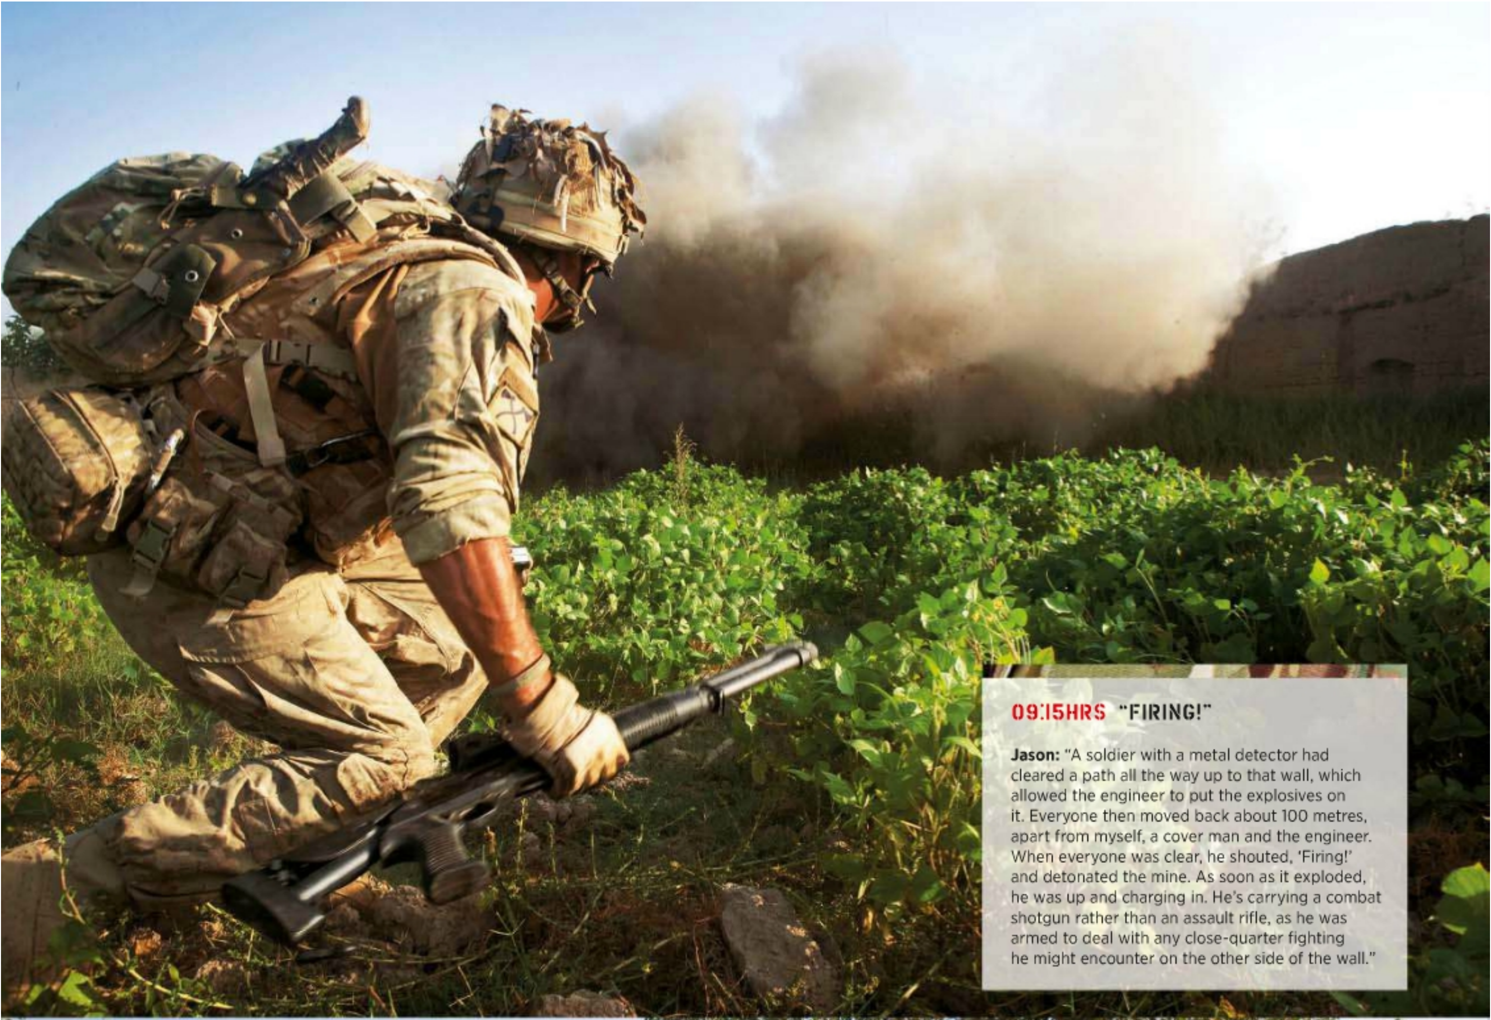


Jason P Howe is an award-winning photographer who has covered conflicts all over the world for more than ten years.



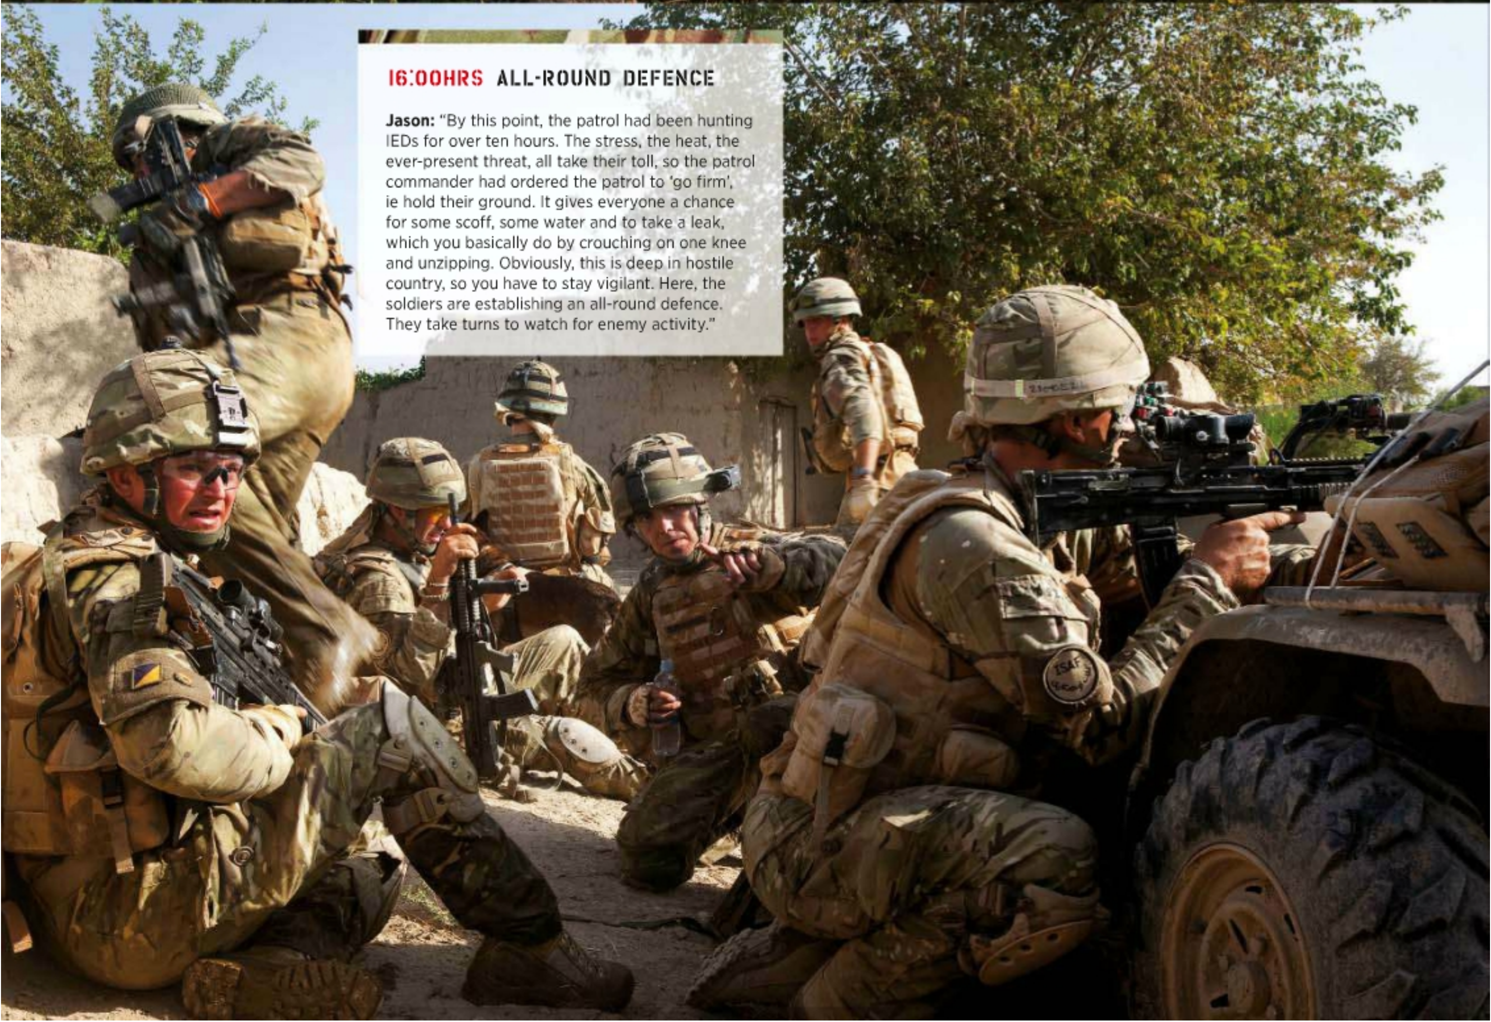
09:10HRS KNOCK KNOCK

Jason: "It'd been reported that there was an IED in the vicinity of this compound. IEDs can be set off by trip wires, a triggerman waiting in an adjacent building, all sorts, so the team use a process whereby they essentially isolate the IED by painstakingly clearing all the buildings around it. You obviously don't go into these places through the doorways because they're the ideal spots for booby traps. It's much smarter to blow your own entry point in a wall, which is what this engineer is about to do here with a bar mine." ▶



09:15HRS "FIRING!"

Jason: "A soldier with a metal detector had cleared a path all the way up to that wall, which allowed the engineer to put the explosives on it. Everyone then moved back about 100 metres, apart from myself, a cover man and the engineer. When everyone was clear, he shouted, 'Firing!' and detonated the mine. As soon as it exploded, he was up and charging in. He's carrying a combat shotgun rather than an assault rifle, as he was armed to deal with any close-quarter fighting he might encounter on the other side of the wall."

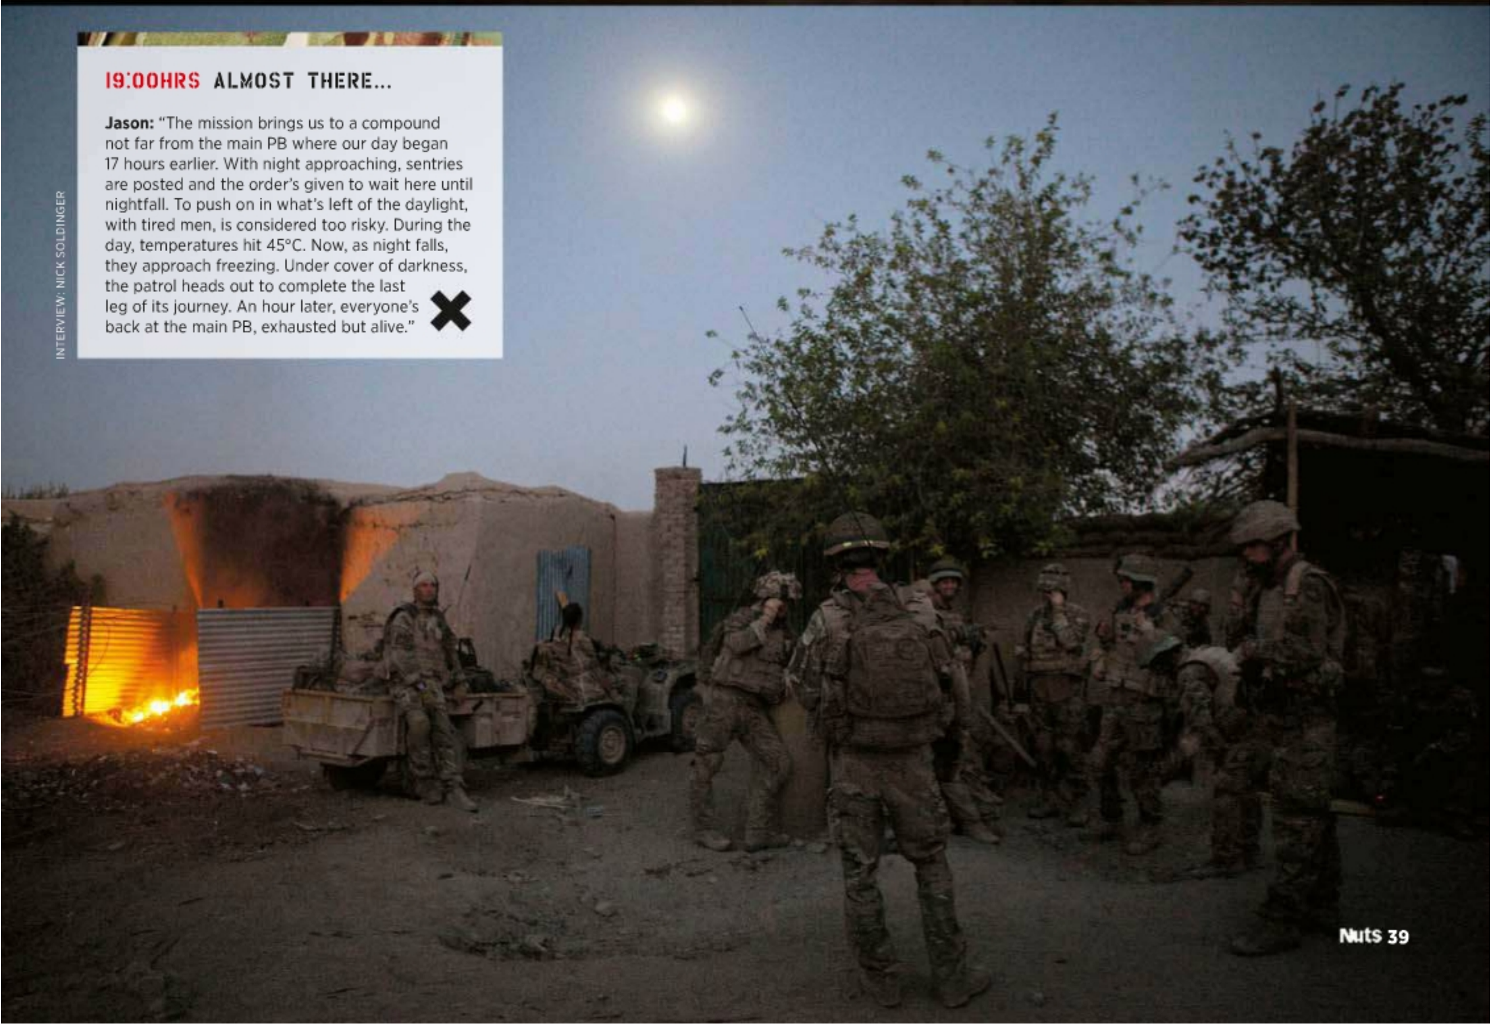


16:00HRS ALL-ROUND DEFENCE

Jason: "By this point, the patrol had been hunting IEDs for over ten hours. The stress, the heat, the ever-present threat, all take their toll, so the patrol commander had ordered the patrol to 'go firm', ie hold their ground. It gives everyone a chance for some scoff, some water and to take a leak, which you basically do by crouching on one knee and unzipping. Obviously, this is deep in hostile country, so you have to stay vigilant. Here, the soldiers are establishing an all-round defence. They take turns to watch for enemy activity."

09:16HRS FIRST MAN IN!

Jason: "This soldier punched straight through the cloud of dust from the blast and was in the compound in seconds. Any Taliban fighters on the other side would have been wounded or disorientated by the explosion, which would have given him a slight advantage in a fight. He was the first man in. Charging through all that choking smoke, his visibility would have been down to a couple of feet, maximum. As it turns out, there was nobody on the other side of the breach, but you never know what could be waiting for you."



19:00HRS ALMOST THERE...

Jason: "The mission brings us to a compound not far from the main PB where our day began 17 hours earlier. With night approaching, sentries are posted and the order's given to wait here until nightfall. To push on in what's left of the daylight, with tired men, is considered too risky. During the day, temperatures hit 45°C. Now, as night falls, they approach freezing. Under cover of darkness, the patrol heads out to complete the last leg of its journey. An hour later, everyone's back at the main PB, exhausted but alive." ✖

Chanelle Uncensored!

The booby babe in a rather rude shoot!

OH BROTHER!

Chanelle first caught Nuts' eye as a 19 year old when she appeared on the 2007 series of Big Brother.

“I have a sexy sailor girl outfit. I wear it with no pants!”

Hi Chanelle! Did you enjoy this raunchy shoot?
I loved it! I always feel sexiest on a Nuts shoot. I have this outrageous range of underwear to slip in and out of. You catch sight of yourself in the mirror mid-shoot and you just think, “Whoa!”

What have you seen recently that should have been censored?
There was this show about holidaymakers going wild in Kavos. People were drinking wee in shot glasses, and then in another scene, this lad had his willy nearly bitten off by some crazy girl he was having sex with! Nobody needs to see that – least of all the girl who did it. She’d be mortified!

What was the last thing that really made you blush?
I was having my hair cut at my hairdresser’s house not too long ago. We looked out of the window and in the building opposite us, they were filming a porn film. Two girls, one man, and with someone bent over a sofa. Worst of all, the man still had his socks on! There were loads of people in the room – you’d be amazed how many people it takes to shoot a porno.

Blimey! What’s the one thing that drives you wild in the bedroom department?
I tell you what, boys – get your massage oil out. Try it with that lube you can lick. Meet her at the door with a blindfold, lead her up the stairs, undress her and gently lay her down. Then start massaging her with warm body oil and take it from there. It’s great being touched when you can’t see the person touching you!

Is there anything blokes do in bed that really puts you off?
I hate guys who are so into themselves that they don’t cater to your needs when they’re having sex. I look at the lads on something like ►

Geordie Shore and they're so obsessed with themselves, you imagine they're just posing in the mirror the whole time. That said, I also hate soppy guys – "Oh, does this feel nice?" No! Don't ask!

What's your ultimate rude fantasy?
I want to have sex on a sun bed. One, it'd save you loads of time getting a tan. Two, it'd be really hot and sexy to do it. That's definitely on my saucy to-do list. It'd be worth all the white marks you'd end up getting from where the rays couldn't reach your bits because you were touching!

What's the raunchiest bit of clothing you own?
I bought a sexy bow recently. Lucy Pinder was wearing it on a cover of Nuts I saw, and it's literally just a big red bow that goes between your legs and across your boobs. You then yank the bow and it all comes off! I do have a big box of rude outfits though...

Please, do elaborate!
I have a sexy sailor girl outfit. It's a tiny skirt – worn with no pants underneath – with a matching nautical bra and a sailor hat. It isn't anything without a hat! I also have some very sexy PVC things. Although, my word, are they hard to get out of. They're just so clingy!

You famously own a cake shop. Have you ever baked in the buff?
Ha! Never for the customers, no, but sometimes for myself. It saves on washing clothes, I guess. Cake-making is messy so why wreck your stuff? Just pants, a bra and an apron are enough for me!

Fair enough! What sort of kinky stuff do you get up to?
I've done a bit of tying up – wrist ties and handcuffs – and maybe I like to throw in a blindfold from time to time. I'm not shy about trying new things, so bondage is certainly not off limits. ►

“I have some very sexy PVC things. They’re just so clingy!”

“I’d love to do a sexy shoot with Lucy Pinder!”

Were any moments in the BB house too rude to show?
Well, they didn't show me naked, did they? There was nothing much, really. My year in the BB house was just dead boring. I had a kiss with Ziggy and that was about it. It must have been the most sexless house ever.

What did you make of Nuts' Lacey Banghard's performance in the house?
She's been great! She wasn't in much of what I saw but she's very sweet and looked great. Boobs help, though, and she has great ones! My advice to girls going in would be to spice things up a bit. Be raunchy, or have a rude fling. People love that.

Which Nuts babe would you most like to see naked?
Lucy Pinder. If you looked up "glamour model" in the dictionary, you would just see a shot of Lucy's boobs. Well, those and her beautiful face, of course. I love Lucy Pinder – she's the boss when it comes to boobs. I've done shoots with her before, but never anything topless. I think there should be something sexy in the pipeline with me and Pinder. I'd love that!

What's your favourite sort of underwear?
I have a resolution to wear only matching underwear this year. I really love lacy French knickers – not granny pants – but very sexy, girlie underwear. Things that are cut in a way that properly shows off your bum.

Thanks for the chat, Chanelle. Finally, what one "uncensored" thing would you love a guy to do with you?
My uncensored fantasy would involve a guy hiring a really lovely cabin in the woods with a hot tub out in the garden. I'd just love to have sex in the bubbles in the open air. It'd have to be a whole lot sexier than the Big Brother hot tub, though! ✖

Real Madrid vs Man United

SKY SPORTS 2/HD • 6pm

If United are to win the Champions League this season, they may have to beat both Spanish powerhouses along the way. They kick off that prospect with a trip to the Bernabeu for a daunting-looking last-16 first-leg tie. An away goal would come in handy.

Sons Of Anarchy

5USA • 10pm

Another week, another charge brought against the Sons, and this time it looks like they may have to face some serious jail time for killing one of the Niners. Before the law catches up with the club, though, they discover the terrible price Tig has had to pay for his actions, as he's left mourning the loss of his daughter.

Channel 4's David Attenborough rival wasn't great

Derek

CHANNEL 4/HD • 10pm

Ricky Gervais really does show his soft side with his old folks' home-set comedy-drama, and there isn't much let-up with the sentimental schmaltz this week as retirement-home worker Derek nurtures a baby bird. It's sweet and funny, and it's pure coincidence that we happened to be chopping onions during this episode. Honest!

YOU LUCKY SOD!

WORLD'S SCARIEST ANIMAL ATTACKS

5* • 8pm

Amazing stuff caught on camera, including a diver filming his own shocking footage of a great white shark breaking open his cage, and a giant anaconda sinking its teeth into a cop. Clearly, they're OK now!

"Will one of you get this poodle off my head?"

Sparta Prague vs Chelsea

ESPN/HD • 5.30pm

The quality of this game will depend heavily on whether Chelsea can be bothered with the Europa League. If they are, Sparta shouldn't pose too many problems, and for Chelsea's travelling fans, there's a fun night out in a top party city at the end!

"OK, let's check the flyer of this singles night again"

Vegas

SKY ATLANTIC/HD • 10pm

This new old-fashioned-style drama is set in '60s Las Vegas, so think guns, gangsters and casino chips. The gangsters come courtesy of Michael Chiklis as Vincent Savino, casino boss and crime lord. His new enemy is Dennis Quaid's rancher, Ralph Lamb, the ex-cop dragged back into helping his buddy the Mayor solve a murder.

Way To Go

BBC THREE • 10pm

The gormless trio of assisted suicide assistants have got themselves into a bit of bother. Finally, Joey is pushed into getting some help at a gambling addicts group and Cozzo tries to sort his life and health out before becoming a dad. Meanwhile, Scott (Neil from The Inbetweeners) tries to get his romance with Julia back on.

I GIVE IT A YEAR

I GIVE IT A YEAR

8 Feb • 15

Shuddering at the idea of being dragged to a sickly sweet rom-com by the missus? Here's the antidote. Rafe Spall and Rose Byrne try to survive their first year of marriage in a laugh-riot straight from the funny bone of Borat writer Dan Mazer, Sacha Baron Cohen's best mate. This Brit gag-fest also stars Stephen Merchant and a booby Anna Faris, so you're in for a treat. ★★★★

TAKEN 2

DVD & Blu-ray • 15

Bryan Mills, the man "with a particular set of skills" from the original kidnap actioner, returns. This time, he has to use those skills when he and his ex-missus are kidnapped by the family of the blokes he killed in the first Taken movie. However, it's his daughter who has to do the rescuing this time. It's not nearly as violent as the first flick, but still enjoyable nevertheless. ★★★★

DEAD SPACE 3

For the third alien-shooting thrill ride, developers have turned down the horror but turned up the action. It's up to you whether you think this makes the game better or worse, but there's still a ton of fun to be had, slicing bits off mutant monsters with mining tools (or with a mate in all-new co-op), leading up to bigger boss battles and set pieces set in the vacuum of space. ★★★★

CONFESSION OF THE WEEK!

'I was his birthday present'

FOR MY birthday, my fella treated me to a surprise weekend away in a woodland cottage with friends. We were snuggled up by the fire later on when people started drifting to bed. We were fooling around, and I tied a red ribbon from one of my presents around my waist as a joke, but he seemed to like it. The thought of being his little present was thrilling, so I stripped slowly then had him do me from behind. He held the ribbon and used it to pull me toward him as he thrust deep inside me. It was the best present we've ever shared!

'My police ball secret'

I WORK for a country police force and recently attended a do at the HQ bar. There was a copper there who I'd fancied for ages. We had a few drinks and some cheeky flirting, and when I left around midnight, he offered to walk me home. As we were walking through the leafy grounds, he leaned in for a kiss. One minute it was just kissing, the next he'd hoisted me up onto a wall, lifted my skirt up, pushed my knickers to the side and had entered me! Knowing the risk we were taking was such a turn-on. Just as we finished, two squad cars and a riot van came past with full "blues and twos" going. Now I can't walk past that wall without smiling to myself!

'We had a sneaky swim'

MY BOYFRIEND and I go to a local pool a lot, and one afternoon it was empty due to the snow outside. We snuck a little kiss once or twice and subtly teased each other under the water. When we got out, I could feel his rock-hard manhood when he hugged me, so I slipped my hand down his shorts and started to slowly play with him. I then sat on his lap, moved my swimming bottoms out the way as he pushed me against the wall. I felt his throbbing erection rub against my clit and then slip inside me. I had to bite his shoulder to try not to make a noise, as some other people were less than ten feet away in another cubicle! We felt so naughty but it was the most fun I've ever had swimming!

'Our training ground fun'

I RECENTLY went up to Coventry to stay with my fella at his parents' house for a weekend. We had his old bedroom and it gave me all sorts of naughty thoughts about what he might have got up to there in the past. I pushed him onto the bed, giving him a quick kiss on the lips before going on my knees to start licking and sucking. We heard footsteps coming up the stairs and quickly jumped apart, but we were really horny, so my boyfriend suggested we take a sneaky drive. After driving around for ages, we eventually pulled into Coventry City's training ground and found a quiet spot. We pushed the driver's seat back and had the most amazing 69, then some hot sweaty sex with me as the driver. Now I can't wait to get back to Coventry!

10 RUDE QUESTIONS!

And a real girl to answer them!

Emma

28 Camberley

1 Where's the strangest place you've had sex?
"I once had sex in the car park of a Baptist church in southern USA. The sex was amazing and then the church staff came out and chased us down the road in a car!"

2 What's your trademark move in the bedroom?
"I have so many. But the thing that tends to drive most blokes crazy is the fact that I have a pierced tongue and will use it anywhere."

3 What turns you on?
"Fantasies. I like to get into full-on acting mode with outfits and scripts. It's a full-on movie, but it's worth it!"

4 What's your favourite position?
"I love it from behind because I like sex to be really impersonal. I like to pretend I'm having sex with a stranger."

5 What one thing would you really like to try but haven't yet?
"I'd definitely love a gang-bang. Lots of guys and girls just going crazy together sounds like absolute heaven to me!"

6 Is it better to give or receive?
"Both! It's impolite to receive and then not give back, isn't it?"

7 Have you ever got it on with another girl?
"Hell yes! Girls can be so much dirtier than guys, and I love being dirty."

8 What's your role-playing costume of choice?
"I have a really naughty policewoman's outfit and I love to dominate and punish the people I put under arrest!"

9 Have you ever made a sex tape?
"Of course I have. I've made loads! I'm very big on making rude home movies! I'm the Steven Spielberg of sex tapes, really."

10 What's the single rudest thing you've ever done?
"I had filthy sex in a wedding chapel once. But hopefully I can improve on that in the future. I'm always looking to try out new things."

EXCLUSIVE!

Joe Hart: 'I'd love to score a last-minute winner!'

The England keeper on overhead winners, his new acting career and tricks-free training!

Hi Joe! This week you're playing Brazil. What do you think it'll be like going up against Neymar?
I've not seen a great deal of him, to be honest. We seem to hear a lot about him but we don't see a lot of him in action. Over 90 minutes, I haven't a clue what he's like!

In the games where you don't have much to do, what do you think about to pass the time and stay focused?
I'm always involved, keeping my distances, moving with the ball, trying to keep interested that way. It's good football to watch sometimes, so that's a big help.

Do you ever zone out?
Yeah! It's human nature to zone out, but I like to think that whenever I'm needed, I'm in the right frame of mind.

Before a game, do you have any superstitions or rituals?
No, I don't like to rely on those things. Rock up and play, that's my attitude.

Can you put into words your feelings when Aguero won Man City the title last season?
I was lost, it was like somebody else had taken over my body. It was just total euphoria. I'd love for that to happen again.

We heard you scored an overhead kick recently in training. Do you ever dream of scoring a last-minute winner?
Of course! But it'd be likely I'd let a goal in at the wrong end. If there was any way of doing it without conceding a goal, then hell yeah, I'll do it.

Would you take a penalty?
Definitely. If required, I'd be pretty confident.

Back at your own end, who gives you the most grief when you're defending a corner?
I couldn't single anyone out, really. You can tell the referee keeps his eye on things and stays on top of everything. I think before my time it could have got a little spicy in there, but we're protected a lot more than previous goalkeepers.

Do you get players doing anything to try and put you off?
You hear some strange noises sometimes when you're kicking the ball. Stuff like that happens a lot, but I'm just like, "Come on, boys, I've done this before!" I suppose people will try any way to win a game really.

Who do you think's the best attacker you've ever faced?
Obviously, Van Persie's on fire at the moment – he's phenomenal. I played against Ronaldo earlier in the season. He's a great player, a constant threat. There's so many good players in the top teams, I've always got to be on my toes.

Who are your heroes?
Seaman and Schmeichel are the two for me, definitely. Seaman was the top England keeper when I was growing up, and Schmeichel did great things with Manchester United and Denmark – he was a great keeper to learn from.

You're in a head&shoulders shampoo ad now. What do the lads think of your acting?
The lads know what I'm like, so they think it's a bit of fun and it's good banter. Some people on the outside might not see it that way but they take life a little bit too seriously for my liking.

In training, is there much showboating?
The whole doing tricks and things like that doesn't really happen like you'd imagine. The higher the level, the fewer tricks there are being done – people tend to keep it business-like. If somebody messes around too much, they get nailed!

Fair enough! Who's the Fifa king at City?
Joleon Lescott's the boss man at our place.

Thanks Joe! Finally, what are your personal goals?
Obviously, I'd like to win the league. I want to have the best defensive record again. I'd look to put a good FA Cup run together. With England, I want to keep my spot. We've got a good manager, good players, we've got to look to qualify for the World Cup and go into it thinking that we can beat anybody.

Joe Hart facts!

- Joe has kept the most clean sheets in the Premier League for the last two seasons.
- Manchester City goalkeeping coach Massimo Battara says of Joe: “You can’t drive a Ferrari like you drive a Fiat 500. Joe is a Ferrari and I want Joe to see how high he can go. His limits are high.”
- His 22 saves in Euro 2012 were more than any other keeper in the tournament.
- Joe once performed a dance routine for Soccer AM wearing nothing but a pair of cycling shorts and a single sock.
- His real first name is Charles – Joseph is one of his middle names.
- In his final year at science college, he was head boy.
- Despite reports claiming that Man City paid Shrewsbury up to £1.5m for Joe, City deputy chairman John Wardle recently revealed that he cost just £100,000.
- Joe didn’t concede an international goal until his fourth game, against Hungary – a Phil Jagielka own goal that appeared not to have crossed the line.

MOTD's Jonathan Pearce on the late transfers that matter!

AS EVER, Transfer Deadline Day threw up all manner of talking points, like whether or not Chris Samba's worth all that money and why the big clubs didn't do any deals. Here, Match Of The Day commentator Jonathan Pearce gives us his thoughts on the day's biggest deals...

PLAYER TO PUNDIT!

Before turning to commentary, Jonathan wanted to be a player, but injury ended his hopes.

"Damn, I thought I was signing for the Vengaboys!"

NACHO MONREAL

MALAGA TO ARSENAL, £10M

"Arsenal needed a left-back and this guy's top-notch. Santos is unfit and has trouble defending, and Kieran Gibbs is injury-prone. Monreal has nine caps for Spain and is only 26."

LIKELY IMPACT: ★★★★★

"They're paying Samba how much?"

URBY EMANUELSON

AC MILAN TO FULHAM, LOAN

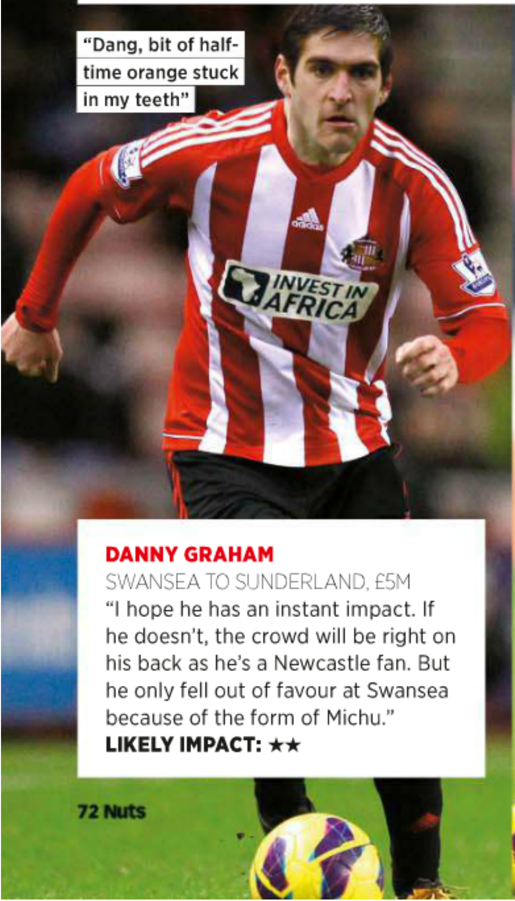
LIKELY IMPACT: ★★★★



"Dang, bit of half-time orange stuck in my teeth"

DANNY GRAHAM

SWANSEA TO SUNDERLAND, £5M

"I hope he has an instant impact. If he doesn't, the crowd will be right on his back as he's a Newcastle fan. But he only fell out of favour at Swansea because of the form of Michu."

LIKELY IMPACT: ★★

"Something looks strangely familiar about this place"

PAUL SCHARNER

HAMBURG TO WIGAN, LOAN

"He'll help plug the gaps at the back, and he's a threat coming forward. But there's an old adage – never go back. Well, he's going back to Wigan and he's not as young as he was."

LIKELY IMPACT: ★★★

"Turn off that ridiculously powerful fan!"

LUCIANO BECCHIO

LEEDS TO NORWICH, PLAYER SWAP

"There's always a little doubt as to whether a Championship striker can step up but I think he'll play well off Grant Holt. He's also flamboyant and has good movement."

"I can't make out a word 'Arry's saying"

CHRISTOPHER SAMBA

ANZHI MAKHACHKALA TO QPR, £12.5M

"The startling deal of the day. That fee, and £100,000 a week, is an amazing gamble. But he's a leader and a powerhouse. If QPR are to stay up, they need players like him."

LIKELY IMPACT: ★★★★★

"Ooh, back's gone again! Where's my Zimmer frame?"

JERMAINE JENAS

SPURS TO QPR, UNDISCLOSED

"My worry is the lack of football he's had in the last couple of years. He's a good box-to-box midfielder but it remains to be seen whether he still has the energy levels of old."

Farewell Balotelli, we'll miss you!

The game needs more characters like Mario. It's sad to see him go!

WELL, THAT'S the end of Mario Balotelli's Manchester City adventure. I think the lad is a real character. He may be a bad boy, and he may have treated Roberto Mancini with a manifest lack of respect for a good deal of his time at the club, but the Premier League was all the better for having him.

Those characters, the bad boys with a bit of magic in their boots, are few and far between. Mario may not be a Paul Gascoigne but he still brought a lot to the game, both on and off the pitch.

People are saying we never got to see the best of him, but for all we know, we may have done. When you come across a character like Mario – which I'd sum up as "I couldn't give a sh*t what anyone thinks about me!" – then you suspect that, in their own head, they probably think they're doing as well as they're able. He's obviously a talented footballer, but maybe what he did at City, in fits and starts, was the best of him.

Anyway, he's off back to his spiritual home, Milan, and that might well bring out the very best in him – or he might just want to carry on being the Mario Balotelli character that he created for himself. Either way, I'll be watching his career with interest, and I suspect the rest of you will be doing the same!

PARIS SAINT-GERMAIN

"I'm delighted to be signing for PSV!"

PSG is a good fit for Becks!

THE RUMOUR mill was in overdrive because David Beckham was training with Arsenal, but any British teams hoping for a bit of Becks were left disappointed. He kept his move to Paris St Germain under wraps pretty well!

Stepping back into the European game with a team that are still a going concern in the Champions League is a good deal for David. For PSG, it's half a football signing and half a marquee signing – you know what you get with Beckham, but for all the glam and glitz that comes with him, he's still a very talented footballer.

If I'd been Harry Redknapp, I'd have moved Heaven and Earth to take him to QPR. I'm a fan of Becks and I still think that he gives you enough quality at the age of 37.

Racist Den Bosch fans booed AZ Alkmaar striker Jozy Altidore during a Dutch league game. I'm glad that Den Bosch got hammered 5-0.

A wise head on young shoulders

LAST WEEK, Birmingham City's keeper Jack Butland turned down talks with Chelsea because he wants to keep playing first-team football (he took a move to Stoke instead, but remains at Birmingham City on loan)– that's quite a choice for a 19-year-old to make. Jack's already been in the England squad and clearly believes in himself. If your next move is to be number two to Petr Cech, then why would you go? So, good luck and well done to young Jack – with him and Joe Hart doing so well, so young, England's goalkeeping future looks to be in safe hands.

Then he unhinged his jaw and swallowed the striker whole
